Mandate To Lewis March 20

Supreme Court Moves Order up 11 Days at Request Of Government

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(P)—The Supreme Court ordered today that its mandate in the John L. Lewis case be issued on March 20—11 days ahead of customary time.

The Government had asked the court to act immediately to enforce its decision against Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

The court's decision requires that within five days after its mandate is issued Lewis must withdraw a notice to the mine workers that the union's working contract with the government is ended.

If not, it will cost the United Mine Workers $2,800,000.

When upholding the contempt convictions of Lewis and the UMW for disregarding a U. S. district court order against last fall's coal strike, the high court reduced a $3,500,000 fine against the union to $700,000.

It said, however, that the original amount of the fine should be collected if Lewis did not withdraw the order.

Fine Upheld
A $10,000 fine against Lewis was upheld.

The effect of today's ruling is to bar the door against a new walkout on March 31.

Lewis ended last fall's strike by ordering the miners to work until March 31.

Under normal procedure, the supreme court's mandate (order in connection with the contempt decision) would not have reached the lower court until March 31. That would have left five days during which the miners could have remained away from the pits without being subject to the full amount of the original fine.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark had requested early action by the high court in order to avert what he said was danger of another walkout of 400,000 miners.

Reply Petition
Lewis and the Union in a reply petition said the public interest would not be adversely affected if the supreme court took its usual 25-day period for issuing the mandate.

On the other hand, they said refusal to allow the 25-day period would prejudice the rights of the union and Lewis.

They claimed they should have the full time to study the court's opinions and decide whether a petition for rehearing of the entire case should be presented to the justices.

The Lewis headquarters had no immediate comment on the court's action, but UMW officials indicated there was a remote chance that a statement might be issued later in the day.

Writer Dies In Washington

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(P)—Theodore C. Alford, 61, head of the Washington Bureau of the Kansas City Star for the past 19 years, died Sunday at George Washington hospital.

He entered the hospital two weeks ago for the removal of his right lung.

Alford joined the Star's staff in 1919 after many years as a court house reporter on the Kansas City Post. At the Star's Missouri political reporter he covered the state's political affairs and several sessions of the legislature. He went to the Washington bureau in 1928.

Alford was born at Lawrence, Kas., and was graduated from the University of Kansas. In 1944 he was selected by the University for a citation for distinguished service.

Survivors include Mrs. Alford, a son, Theodore C. Alford, Jr., a daughter, Mrs. Jane Wilson, St. Joseph, Mo., and two sisters, Mrs. William Belden, Durant, Mich., and Mrs. Elias Sellards, Austin, Tex.

Continue Search For Crash Victims

GRENOBLE, France, March 17.—(P)—With 13 bodies already recovered, searchers planned to resume their hunt today for other victims of the crash of an air France liner, which was wrecked 25 miles south of here Friday with 23 persons aboard.

The search was abandoned temporarily yesterday for fear of avalanches.

The plane, bound from Nice to Paris, hit a cliff on 7,000 foot Mount Moucherot, causing an avalanche which buried the wreckage and victims under tons of snow and rocks.

City Council Meets Tonight
The City Council will meet in regular session in the City Hall tonight. Among matters to be taken up will be naming of judges for the city election to be held April 1.

Teen Town's St Patrick's Day King

The first St. Patrick's day king in the history of Sedalia was crowned Saturday night at Teen Town, 114 East Second street, when Russell Case, 1205 South Osage avenue, was voted the teen at a St. Patrick's day party. The "king" is shown being crowned with a large green shamrock by Miss Donna Knerl, 920 South Monticau avenue. Eight girls, members of the "Q.T.'s" a girls' club, acted as attendants. They were (left to right) Misses Madge Cloney, Mary Ann Johnson, Mimi Hale, Mary Alice Sheffield, Donna Knerl (behind Case), Wanda White, Shirley Kantor, Jo Ann Zink, and Wilma Shield. ## Physicians Are Finding New Problems

Medical Schools Revolutionizing Training Methods

"Many physicians practicing today have not only seen their profession go through the strain of two world wars but they have also seen it completely revolutionize its training in the medical schools and its standards for practice. As the result of this painful reorganization early in the century American medicine finds itself today in a very favorable position with medical school research centers and hospitals second to none in the world and young men and women the highest in their classes clamoring to be admitted to the long and demanding course that leads to the M. D. degree and the right to practice medicine," Dr. Dean F. Smiley of Chicago, consultant in health and physical fitness of the American Medical Association said in his talk today noon before the Rotary club at the Bothwell hotel.

Visitors introduced by E. A. Edwards were: Maurice Hogan, guest of James Denny; Pinkney Miller, guest of George Lockett; Mrs. L. S. Geiger guest of Dr. L. S. Geiger; M. J. McFadden, guest of Dick Snow; H. L. Crow, guest of E. A. Edwards; David Eisenstein, guest of his father, Victor Eisenstein; Mr. and Mrs. Heber Hunt and Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Dyer, guest of Dr. A. L. Walter; Bob Johnson, guest of Dr. L. S. Geiger and Rotarian Rev. J. M. Shockley of Warrensburg.

Rotary Session
The program chairman announced that next Monday would be Rotary day and will be a noon day meeting. Dr. William Bradshaw, dean of the University of Missouri, Columbia, will be the guest speaker.

A color film "Playtown, USA" was shown following the talk.

New Problems
In continuing his talk on "American Medicine Tackles New Problems," Dr. Smiley said in part: "With the end of the recent war attention was immediately directed to an entirely different set of problems which war showed the urgency of. Why were there draftees with hernias that could have been repaired but weren't when the boy was in school? Why are so many of our rural counties (40%) without adequate hospitals? Why are so many of our rural schools without school physicians? Why do we so often pay nothing for the maintenance of hospital and medical facilities for years at a time, when we are well, only to receive a staggering hospital and medical bill that one year when we happen to be sick? Why is so little done about keeping fit in view of the millions we spend to get well once we are sick?"

"All these questions have been receiving close attention from the medical profession and remedies are already in the making."

Truman Getting a Good Rest

By Ernest B. Vaccaro
KEY WEST, Fla., March 17.—(P)—President Truman, kept away from the beach again by overcast skies, spent this morning reading telegrams congratulating him on his daughter's radio debut.

He decided to fly back to Washington Wednesday, leaving shortly after lunch with a view to having dinner in the White House.

The weather being too chilly for swimming and too cloudy for sunbathing, Mr. Truman slept until 7:30 o'clock again, eating a hearty breakfast 30 minutes later.

The chief executive is tanned and peppery in appearance.

Optimists To Hear Author

Speaking on the subject, "The Science of Good Cheer," The Rev. Andreas Bard, D.D., L.L.D., for 35 years pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church of Kansas City, will appear before the local Optimist club at its regular noon meeting in the Hotel Bothwell Tuesday.

In addition to his duties as pastor of the large congregation, Dr. Bard has traveled widely in America and in Europe, lecturing before large audiences. He has also devoted time to writing both prose and poetry. The latest of his books is a defense of the Christian faith in a volume entitled "Broadly Speaking." Among his other books are "The Bridge of Baghdad," "Your Flag and My Flag," and "A Tale That Is Told."

Drawing on his long public service and his intimate knowledge of life among many peoples, Dr. Bard will please his audience with serious thought and humor. Special guests at the meeting will be The Professional and Business Women's club; and members of other service organizations of Sedalia.

Frame House Blown Apart

KANSAS CITY, Kas., March 17.—(P)—An explosion followed by fire blew apart a frame house yesterday and injured four persons, one critically.

The force of the blast was so great only part of one sidewalk and the front porch wall were left standing. A gas explosion was believed to be the cause of the blast, Assistant Fire Chief S. A. Doherty said.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harkness, 40 and 38; their son, Gordon, 15, and Mrs. Ann Whitney, 43, sister of Mrs. Harkness. All were in the house at the time of the explosion and suffered burns.

Mrs. Harkness' condition was listed as critical.

F. of L. Officers Come For Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of the Sedalia Federation of Labor will be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the Labor Hall, 208 1/2 South Ohio avenue, with R. T. Wood and Frank J. Murphy, president and secretary of the Missouri State Federation of Labor, as speakers. The subject will be "Labor Legislation."

All members of labor are invited to attend.

Missouri Man Is Stabbed to Death

ERI, Pa., March 17.—(P)—The victim of a stabbing whose body was found yesterday near the New York Central railroad tracks has been identified by Coroner W. W. Wood as a Missouri man.

Wood said a Social Security card found on the body bore the name of Frank Hess, 35, Peculiar, Mo.

Knife thrusts had almost severed the man's head. There were slashes under his right arm and hip. Wood said the condition of the man's clothing indicated a terrific struggle had taken place.

Nine Crowded Into Sedan Are All Killed

Speeding Car Crashes Into Backing Engine

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., March 17.—(P)—Five young men and four girls, crowded into a sedan, were killed early yesterday when the speeding car crashed into a backing switch engine at a C. & B. and Q. grade crossing a mile west of here. All were residents of West Frankfort or nearby towns.

Peggy Williams, 18, West Frankfort.

Thelma Vinyard, 18, West Frankfort.

Wilma Arnett, 23, West Frankfort.

Golda Arnett, 19, sister of Wilma.

John Gaddis, 22, West Frankfort.

Samuel L. Coffel, 21, Christopher.

Ronald Harris, 26, Christopher.

Howard Niblett, 24, Christopher.

Mike Puskar, 23, Valier.

Taking Four Home

The victims were en route from Christopher to West Frankfort. Four of the youths had been picked up in the vicinity and had ridden up the others to take them to their homes here.

C. R. Guthrie of Herrin, engineer of the locomotive, and Fireman Frank J. King, also of Herrin, reported the car was traveling at a high rate of speed when it struck the locomotive tender.

"They didn't see us apparently until the car was right at the crossing," King said. "It looked like the driver tried to slow up, saw he couldn't stop in time, and then speeded up again and tried to make it across."

"The car hit square on the back of the tender and was dragged about 50 feet," Guthrie said.

"When he got out and went over to the car, everything was quiet. Everybody was dead, apparently. We went back to the crossing and sent some people for help."

Franklin County Coroner D. J. Clayton, describing the accident as the worst of its kind in the county's history, said the impact was so great that the motor and hood were driven back into the body of the car. None of the victims were thrown clear of the wreckage. Clayton said he would hold an inquest, probably Tuesday night.

Clayton said a light similar to a street light was located at the crossing, but that he had not determined whether it was turned on at the time of the accident.

Green Ribbons in Japan

TOKYO, March 17.—(P)—There was a touch of St. Patrick's day at the session of the international tribunal trying Japan's wartime leaders.

Nobody knew why, but a half-dozen Japanese defense attorneys showed up today with green ribbons in their lapels.

The Weather

Central Missouri: Mostly fair tonight and Tuesday. Little change in temperature tonight, lowest near 25 degrees. Somewhat warmer Tuesday, with the highest temperature in the lower forties.

Thought for Today

Love thyself last. Cherish those hearts that hate thee. Corruption wins not more than honesty. Still in thy right hand carry gentle peace To silence envious tongues. Be just and fear not.

—Shakespeare.

United Nations Should Guide, Control Japan

States MacArthur In Advocating Early End to Occupation

By Russell Brines
TOKYO, March 17.—(P)—Gen. MacArthur today advocated an early end of the military occupation of Japan and elimination of Allied headquarters position under a formal peace treaty on which negotiations should begin "as soon as possible."

"Control and guidance" of Japan's democratization should then continue under supervision of the United Nations, MacArthur told correspondents in his first on-the-record press conference since early in the war.

He declined to specify when he thought peace negotiations should begin, but indicated he believed it should be within a matter of months at the longest. He likewise declined to speculate on the probable length of additional supervision.

MacArthur said if the United Nations cannot provide the mild control needed for Japan, the U.N. cannot meet any challenge.

Other Points
Other points made by MacArthur during questioning at the conclusion of a press club luncheon:

1. The occupation has nearly completed its constructive functions. The first phase—demilitarization—has ended. "The political phase is approaching such completion as is possible under occupation." The third phase—economic—cannot be settled by occupation authorities.

2. "Japan is still economically blockaded by the Allied powers." Final settlement of this problem is possible only with a peace treaty. Trade must be in the hands of private traders.

3. "Japan today understands as thoroughly as any nation that war does not pay. Her spiritual revolution probably was the greatest the world has ever known."

4. Japan has lost her feudalistic concepts and has come to recognize the "dignity of man." "I don't by that mean to say this thing called democracy has been accomplished. The process of democratization is one of continual flux. It takes years. But insofar as you can lay down the framework, it already is accomplished. There is little more except to watch, control and guide x x x. I believe sincerely and absolutely that individual freedom 'is here to stay.'"

Fatally Burned In Prison Cell

JEFFERSON CITY, March 17.—(P)—Burned in a mysterious fire which turned his Missouri penitentiary cell into a crematory, Harry McIntyre, 27, died in the prison hospital Saturday afternoon.

Deputy Warden William P. Steinhauer said today another inmate apparently walked by McIntyre's cell in "C" hall, tossed gasoline inside then ignited it with a match.

"There was a flash like a small explosion," Steinhauer said. "A guard came running and found the cell full of flames. Some inmates grabbed a fire extinguisher, but they had trouble getting the door open and McIntyre was pretty badly burned."

Steinhauer said the arsonist had not been found although "two were working on it." McIntyre had not had any special trouble with other inmates, the deputy warden said.

The prisoner was received at the penitentiary February 9, 1946, to serve a six-year sentence from St. Louis for armed robbery.

Damage from the fire was confined to the single cell.

Hotel Fires in Mississippi Towns

CLARKSDALE, Miss., March 17.—(P)—Fire raced through the upper floors of the Alcazar hotel and down a business block here yesterday, causing damage estimated at near $1,000,000, while guests of a hostelry in Jackson were routed by a less serious roof blaze.

There were no serious injuries in either fire.

Origin of the blaze here was not immediately determined. Mayor John Newman said the loss to the hotel and other business establishments would be between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

Envoy Getting Settled

LONDON, March 17.—(P)—This was "settling in" day at the American embassy for smiling Lewis W. Douglas, the United States' new envoy to the Court of St. James.

The ambassador, who arrived by plane yesterday, quietly inspected his office and met his staff at the big bluff building fronting famous Grosvenor square.

The Mayfair Green spot now being cleared for erection of a statue of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Windsors in New York
NEW YORK, March 17.—(P)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor arrived today by plane from Florida where they have been vacationing. They will remain here until their return to England in May.

Reporters Are Surprised, No Paper, Pencil

TOKYO, March 17.—(P)—A group of grim war correspondents gathered in a small Manila office more than five years ago for a hurried press conference with the commander of the American army, then retreating toward Bataan.

That was the last formal press conference held by General Douglas MacArthur until today. And five years ago, the correspondents could not print the main story—that headquarters was moving to Corregidor.

Since then, his formal meetings have been limited to off-the-record sessions with the working press and an occasional meeting with editors from the United States who were permitted to quote him.

Today, when he was invited to the Tokyo Correspondents' club for luncheon, it was generally expected his remarks would be confidential.

Then, after the luncheon, Club President Tom Lambert of the Associated Press asked the General if he would answer questions for publication. MacArthur agreed readily.

This took many correspondents by surprise. They had neglected to bring pencil and paper.

Congress Must Give Support To President

States Lodge, But Should Lay Down Stiff Requirements

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(P)—Senator Lodge (R-Mass) proposed today that congress lay down stiff requirements before it accepts "the lesser of two evils" and extends aid to Greece and Turkey.

The Massachusetts senator, a member of the foreign relations committee, said he believes congress must support the president in principle because with any repudiation of Mr. Truman's stand, "the last hope of ever organizing peace would vanish."

Mr. Truman has proposed giving the two nations military aid and a loan of $400,000,000.

Lodge expressed his views in a statement placed in the Congressional Record.

At same time Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.) called in the senate for a statement by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York on his attitude toward the president's proposal.

Dewey a Candidate
McMahon, who announced his support of the Mediterranean aid plan, told his colleagues that Dewey "obviously" is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948.

"Under the circumstances," the Connecticut senator said, "I think it would be well if we heard from the gentleman from Albany on this matter."

There were also these other developments on the aid plan:

1. Rep. Eaton (R-NY) chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, announced that legislation authorizing the Greek-Turkish loan is not yet complete.

"The bill is incubating in the colossal minds of the state department and among our people here," he told reporters after a committee meeting at which the bill originally was scheduled for introduction.

To Report on Greece
U. S. Porter, chief of the U. S. economic mission to Greece, returned to the capital to report to President Truman on his two months study of conditions in Greece. He told reporters he will see Mr. Truman later this week after the chief executive returns from a Florida vacation.

3. Republican senators suggested that Mr. Truman report the Greek-Turkish aid program to the United Nations and appoint former president Herbert Hoover to direct relief activities in the two countries.

Two Lose Lives in Kerosene Fire

SIKESTON, Mo., March 17.—(P)—Kerosene tossed into a stove to revive a fire exploded yesterday at the farm home of Glen Besse, resulting in death of his wife, Exie Mae Besse, 33, and their 14-month-old son Muil.

When the explosion occurred Mrs. Besse grabbed the child from a high chair and started to run from the building but dropped the baby which perished as the building burned. Mrs. Besse died last night in a Sikeston hospital. Besse suffered superficial burns.

Dinner for Legion And Auxiliary

American Legion Post 16 and its auxiliary will hold a covered dish banquet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Convention hall, Liberty park, in honor of the founding of the Legion. Members of Post 16, its auxiliary and their families are invited to attend.

Meeting Postponed

The Sedalia Civic Council, which was to have been tonight, has postponed its meeting until March 24, at which time it will meet in the law office of William F. Brown.

Son of Erin Takes the Pledge

A son of Erin was in police court this morning—and of all days—St. Patrick's day, March 17, he took the pledge. "Never again will I touch a bottle, never again will I take a drink," he promised Judge W. E. Scotten, after he was fined $5 for being intoxicated. Incidentally it was just one of his numerous visits in the court over the past 18 years.

It was Tom Ireland, 314 East Boonville, who sought leniency from the court when it was suggested he be sentenced to days in the city jail, who made the promises. Acting City Attorney Frank Armstrong said to Ireland: "Tom, just how many times have you been in court?" to which Ireland replied, "I just don't remember. But this drinking has got to stop, and I pledge to you gentlemen I am through, through forever."

Ireland then told the court if he would let him off with a light fine, he would get the money and pay it. Then voluntarily he began talking: "Gentlemen, I have got to quit drinking. I don't seem to get ahead. I don't have any money and I am a hard worker and make plenty when working. I'm 63 years old, and I ain't getting any younger. Today is a good day to make up my mind to quit."

Demands Plan For Germany To Pay Russia Ten Billion

Shamrocks In Ireland Were Tinted By Snow

DUBLIN, March 17.—(P)—Sure and there was shortage of shamrocks in old Ireland this St. Patrick's day. Winter snows which have covered this isle for many weeks were responsible.

Sprigs sold for a half crown (five cents) each. The usual price is three pence (five cents). Those to be had were tinted with brown by the snow.

Irish folk crowded their churches for holiday services. The holiday was observed quietly. Saloons closed.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(P)—The Supreme Court today in effect upheld the right of the Civil Service Commission to fire a government employe on grounds he is a Communist sympathizer.

The court refused to review protests by Morton Friedman, who was ousted from a job with the War Manpower Commission by order of the Civil Service Commission. The refusal leaves in effect rulings by lower federal courts which upheld the commission's order.

Friedman in appealing to the Supreme Court said he was fired as a result of a "witch hunt" which he stated "is now proceeding in the government service and elsewhere."

JERUSALEM, March 17.—(P)—The Palestine government lifted martial law today after 15 days of British army rule, officially reported imposed to check violence by the Jewish underground, over sections of the Holy Land.

Some 25,000 of Jerusalem's Jews welcomed the end at noon (4 a. m. Central Standard Time) in a virtual holiday spirit. They thronged to the edges of the wire-guarded military zone an hour beforehand to await release. Police had combed their homes for terrorist suspects during the martial law period.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(P)—Fresh Republican proposals arose today that President Truman (1) officially report his Greek-Turkey aid program to the United Nations and (2) designate Herbert Hoover to direct relief activities in the two countries.

Objects To Turkey Participation
In objecting to a French proposal on the same subject, Vishinsky attacked any participation by Turkey and quoted what he said were the words of a United States politician that "Turkey grew fat on the war."

"Vishinsky objected to a British proposal to set up four committees consisting of representatives of the Big Four and each of the 18 smaller states represented at London to handle various treaty-drafting chores. Vishinsky said the British plan was a "large, deep sea with no shores" and would turn the drafting committees into debating societies which would never accomplish anything.

Find Body of Major Who Parachuted
PANAMCA CITY, Fla., March 17.—(P)—The body of Major David A. Smiley, 50, formerly of Hannibal, Mo., missing since March 7 following a parachute jump in the Lynn Haven area, was found yesterday afternoon in Anderson Bayou, near here.

Major Smiley was one of five men who bailed out of a C-45 twin-engine aircraft during a thunderstorm when the plane ran out of gas. The other four landed safely.

Cancelled Passage on Plane That Crashed
CANNES, France, March 17.—(P)—Air line officials said today Barbara Stanwyck and her husband, Robert Taylor, of the movies, had booked passage on the Nice-to-Paris plane which crashed in the French Alps Friday, but an improvement in the weather caused them to cancel the reservations and return to Paris by automobile.

The crash killed 23 persons. (Miss Stanwyck and Taylor ended a 36-hour visit to Amsterdam Sunday and motored on to Brussels.)

New Zealand Bride Going Back Home
TRENTON, Mo., March 17.—(P)—Mrs. June Welsh, who a year ago came from her native New Zealand as a war bride, today was on her way back.

She was divorced from her husband last fall, but did not have the funds to return. Residents of Spickard, where she lived, and members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars collected a fund for the trip and helped make the arrangements.

Illinois Recognizes Value of Reporters

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 17—Plans have been completed to build a super, three-deck press box at the University of Illinois Memorial Stadium for an approximate cost of $200,000, Sports Director Charles Flynn said today.

Reporters covering Illinois football games will have a heated and ventilated working quarters. Thirty inches of space will be allotted each reporter in the first deck, of the 180 foot long structure. The second deck, for photographers, will be flanked with booths for scouts. The third deck will be divided into 12 radio booths.

Briefs From the Training Camps

By the Associated Press
A spring training victory or home run doesn't mean a thing when baseball's opening day rolls around but Pittsburgh fans were keeping their fingers crossed today after Hank Greenberg's smashing performance against the Boston Braves yesterday.

Ordinarily Hankus-Pankus is no ball of fire in the grapefruit league and that's why his two homers and single against the Braves was considered highly significant. The big slugger likes to take his time rounding into condition for the league games which count.

But this is a different year for Hank—maybe the end of the trail for the handsome clown who collected virtually all power-hitting honors in his long term with Detroit's Tigers. And Hank, who was deeply hurt and embittered by his sudden sale to Pittsburgh, wants to show the Tigers as well as the fans that he still wields a big stick.

Other news from the training camps:
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The St. Louis Cardinals have decided on a ring as the 1946 world series award they have coming from Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler. Funds from the commissioner's office pay for the emblems selected each year by members of the champion team.

TAMPA—Grady Hatton, the Cincinnati Reds' sophomore third baseman, was a casualty yesterday as the Boston Red Sox whupped the Redlegs 6-4. The young Texan stopped a ninth inning single by Pete Layden with his jaw, but was not believed seriously hurt. Joe Beggs and Ken Polivka go against the Cards today.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Manager Muddy Ruel of the St. Louis Browns says there is no foundation for the rumor the Browns are considering a trade which would send Russell Peters to the Senators. Ruel said Peters still was considered a candidate for an infield position.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Probably to ease their demotions in the near future, most of the Boston Red Sox rookie infielders will play when Joe Cronin takes his champions to Bradenton to play Harry Leibold's Colonels. Cronin planned to use Otis Clark, Randy Heflin and Al Widmar, all ex-Colonels on the mound.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—Still smarting from their 13-1 shellacking by the Pirates, the Boston Braves will attempt to regain their batting eyes at the expense of their Milwaukee farmhands today. Southpaw Lou Post from Seattle and Jim Wallace are ticketed for mound duty.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—With their grapefruit league record evened at three wins in six starts with a 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees, the Detroit Tigers called on Hal Newhouse to pitch today in their second meeting with the Yankees. Manager Steve O'Neill hinted the big southpaw might go all the way against Albie Reynolds and Al Lyons of the Yankees.

SAN DIEGO—Pitcher Orval Grove says the Chicago White Sox have the "best looking bunch of rookies I've ever seen at a training camp, especially the pitchers. If Gebrian, Gillespie, Harpist and Evans keep going as they have, a tough time making the club." The Sox veterans, Red Ruffing and Thornton Lee, beat the New York Giants yesterday 9-3.

LOS ANGELES—First Sacker Eddie Waitkus aggravated his ailing arm on a throw to second base and Chicago Cub Manager Charlie Grimm announced he will be sent to Boyes Springs, Calif., for treatment by Denny Carroll, retired ex-Detroit trainer. # Take the Laughter

by Karen DeWolf
Copyright by Karen DeWolf—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mona is late coming home for dinner and Sherry is worried. The two girls rent a cottage together in one of Hollywood's bungalow courts. Mona works in an insurance office and Sherry, who wants to write, keeps house. When Mona finally arrives, she is out of breath and excited. "George Brothers brought me home," she says. "I'll tell you about it while we eat."

SHERRY went into the kitchen and put the chops on the broiler. The table in the breakfast nook was set and the vegetables only needed heating up. She took the salads out of the icebox and put them on the table, but all the while she was thinking of George Brothers.

She had seen him once when she had met Mona downtown for lunch. He was the head of the insurance company for which Mona worked. He looked well fed and comfortable, and his hair was thinning on top. He seemed like a nice, pleasant person all right, but not the sort of man to cause such a triumphant glow.

When their meal was almost over Sherry understood. She could always see the other person's point of view, so clearly sometimes that she lost her own. So she understood Mona's elation when, out of one hundred and thirty-seven girls, George Brothers had taken her home.

As Mona talked, the uninteresting man became as important to Sherry as he was to Mona and the other hundred and thirty-six. She could see them there in the huge room with row after row of desks. Some of them were old, the ones that had been dependably there for years and got bonuses. Mona had been there only six months and her desk was third from the end near the entrance to George Brothers' private office.

Sherry could see her, sleek and efficient, handling papers with her slim, manicured hands. George Brothers had seen her there two months ago for the first time. He had said, "Good morning," and heads had turned from the nearest desks.

Then they had met in the elevator once and exchanged the man of day. Sherry imagined the man's surprise at Mona's throaty, cultured voice and precocious poise. Tonight they had met outside the building, and safely away from interested eyes, he had offered to drive her home.

MONA was saying, "And you remember that cocktail lounge at the Baltimore, the one we walked through that day? Well, we went there. Little bowls of olives and peanuts on all the tables and honey, a girl at the bar with my new blue velvet exactly! Only hers was the real thing. And a square-cut emerald an inch long!" She fingered her own enormous jade.

"I couldn't phone you. I didn't want to give the impression there were any strings to me. He's too cagey to go for that sort of thing." Sherry did not like the implication.

"But—he's married, isn't he?" she wanted to know.

Mona laughed her low, rippling laugh.

She said, "People's lives aren't just all over the minute they marry, darling."

Sherry hated Mona to laugh at change the collar and cuffs. She did all their sewing. . . . After all, Mona worked all day. But the new linen set was for George Brothers. She felt vaguely resentful. She had laundered the pique ones beautifully.

So Mona had not been able to call her because of the impression it would make on George Brothers! What had Mona been thinking when she was smiling that secretive little smile into the fire? Surely, she wouldn't—

Whiskers jumped down from the chair and stretched. She went to the door and meowed.

Sherry said, "I think it's still raining, patsy," but she opened the door, and Whiskers meandered lazily out and sat on the dry top step.

Sherry went into the bedroom where Mona had the dress laid out on the bed.

She said, "Let me do it, darling." The heavy clunk of the knocker surprised them both. Sherry closed the bedroom door and opened the front one. The young man who stood on the steps wore a scarlet sweater, and there were glistening drops of rain on his dark curls. From his superior height he regarded Sherry gravely.

He said, "I beg your pardon, of course. You have an onion?" Sherry said, "I think so."

The young man smiled happily. "Then we may borrow it?" he wanted to know. "But you see we have a lovely stew, it needs only an onion." His smile faded. "We have no onion."

Sherry understood. She said, "Of course. Will you—won't you come in?"

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, March 17—(AP)—Now that the basketball season is almost over, you can look for two off-season developments. First is a lot of job-switching by college coaches (they already have begun to follow the example of the football tutors), and second is salary troubles in the pro leagues. . . . Ken Loeffler, St. Louis Bombers coach, pointed out the salary situation the other day. . . . "The boys already are talking about how much they'll ask next season," said Ken. "It will be quite a problem. In basketball you can have an $80,000 a year man because everybody knows his hitting or pitching wins games. In basketball, when you have a $10,000 man playing with a lot of $3,000 men, they just won't pass to him and he can't win the games. . . . It just emphasizes that basketball is a team game; you have to have balance on your team and you have to have balance on your payroll."

Statistical Note
Since St. Louis is a baseball town, Loeffler has picked up the habit of classifying cagers, like ball players, by their hitting averages.

Western Region NCAA Playoffs Tonight

KANSAS CITY, March 17—(AP)—Rival coaches Bruce Drake of the Oklahoma Sooners and Johnny Flannigan of the St. Louis University Billikens pronounced their teams "ready" for tonight's playoff title for the fifth district berth in the Western Regional N. C. A. A. tournament.

The Sooners won the Big Six conference championship and the St. Louis school is the Missouri Valley conference titleholder.

"We are not taking St. Louis lightly," Bruce said. "After all, St. Louis beat Oklahoma A. and M. twice and that's better than we were able to do against the Aggies, but I believe we are as ready as a team can get."

Flannigan wasn't worrying much over the fact his Billikens dropped their last three games after having won the Missouri Valley conference championship.

"I think we will make a real game of it," Flannigan said, "and if we are hot I think we will win."

A scoring duel between easy Ed McAuley, 6-foot 8-inch center for St. Louis and Oklahoma's Gerald Tucker, a 6-foot 4-inch pivot man, is expected. Each man led his conference in scoring.

St. Louis has a season record of 18 victories and 10 losses. Oklahoma has a 21-6 season record.

The winner tonight will play Oregon State in the second game of a doubleheader in the western regional playoff here Friday night. Texas University and the University of Wyoming will meet in the opening game.

The St. Louis-Oklahoma game starts at 8 o'clock (PCS).

Mrs. Ruby Oltjenbruns and Mr. Roscoe Elbert, both of Kansas City, Mo., were married in a double ring service at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the Rev. A. W. Kokendoffer at his home, 908 South Ohio avenue.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgenstern, also of Kansas City.

The bride's selection for her wedding was a three-piece suit of amber shade with which she wore brown accessories. Her corsage was of sunburst rosebuds.

Mrs. Morgenstern was attired in a gray suit with geranium top coat and her accessories were of gray and black. She wore a corsage of gardenias surrounded by red rosebuds.

Preceding the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman C. Keuper, 1806 West Broadway. Guests in addition to the bride and bridegroom were her daughter, Miss Dolores Oltjenbruns and Mr. Larry Welch, both of Kansas City.

Mr. Elbert, who is an auditor, is well-known in Sedalia. The couple will make their home in Kansas City.

The Beta Tau Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. John Vandekamp, 406 West Seventh street.

The last meeting was held on March 6 at the home of Miss Nadine Speiser, 1000 West Sixteenth street.

The program was in the form of a debate presented by members of the freshman class of the Sacred Heart high school. Those participating were Herman Wolfe, chairman, Mary Lou Ash and Robert Zoernig taking the affirmative and Mary Jo Weller and Joseph Mehl, the negative. The subject debated was: "Should the Constitution Limit a President to Two Consecutive Terms." The vote of the judges gave the decision to the negative side.

Following the regular business meeting refreshments were served by the hosts.

Country Faces Big Questions On New Policy

To Stop Spread of Communism by Aid To Other Countries

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—This country faces some big questions in its new foreign policy.

That policy, at this time, is to stop the spread of Communism by giving help to the present governments of Greece and Turkey.

(Greek Communists are trying to overthrow the government there. And Turkey is under steady pressure from her neighbor, Russia.)

If we don't try to stop the spread of Communism right now, here's the most extreme thing which could happen:

All Europe and the rest of the world might go communist and we'd stand alone, the last refuge of capitalism.

We, then, could hardly hope to lick the world. But we're strong now and perhaps could whip any nation, including Russia, that got in our way.

So, by acting now, we might save ourselves from being overwhelmed later.

Question Number One President Truman wants to stop the spread now. He's asked Congress for $400,000,000 for Greece and Turkey.

And right there comes the No. 1 question:

When we've helped Greece and Turkey, do we stop right there in efforts to halt the spread of Communism?

Or is this just the start? Do we go on from there, helping every country which seems in danger of falling under Russia's thumb?

(The president told Congress: "The free peoples of the world look to us for support in maintaining their freedom.")

Congress seems sure to give the president the money he asked for Greece and Turkey.

To do otherwise would discredit him and our foreign relations.

But this Congress, which has been talking of cutting expenses, probably will talk long on this question: where after Greece and Turkey?

Nothing Official From Russia How long can we go on handing out supplies and money? Can we go on indefinitely like that without having war with Russia? That question is being asked in the senate now.

So far Russia hasn't said anything official about Mr. Truman's new foreign policy. It isn't likely to remain quiet forever, and for this, if no other reason:

In stepping into the internal affairs of Greece, this country is ignoring the United Nations which we helped create to solve international problems.

Mr. Truman said the time is too pressing to wait for action by the United Nations. But would we permit Russia to make that excuse if she openly wanted to do something of the same kind?

Once we do it, Russia may feel free to do likewise. Then what happens to the United Nations?

Question of Democracy Too So far this story has dealt only with the problems this nation faces in protecting its national welfare. But the question of democracy is part of all this, too.

In this country political democracy—political opposition and the free vote—is the backbone of the government and the way of life.

Communists don't bother with it. They'll use political democracy to gain power, if they can, and then wipe it out by crushing opposition.

But what do we do? Would we—of we've poured millions of dollars into a country to help stop Communism—stand idly by if the Communists had a chance of coming to power in regular, free elections?

Girl Scouts

The Sedalia Council of Girl Scouts entertained with a tea Saturday afternoon in the Elk's Club House. More than seven hundred Sedalia Girl Scouts and adults interested in the program contributed to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund in commemoration of the thirty-fifth birthday anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

The fund, named in honor of the Girl Scout movement in America will be used this year for reestablishment of Girl Scouting in the occupied countries.

All Girl Scouts, children and adults contribute one penny for each year of their age. A Juliette Low representative is chosen from each troop and attends the tea with their leader and makes the troops donation at this time.

Mrs. John C. Ryan, Juliette Low representative on the council, was chairman of the tea, assisted by Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, commissioner, Mrs. E. T. Dillard, first deputy commissioner, Mrs. J. Pierre Lamy, Mrs. Phillip McLaughlin, and Mrs. Paul Houston, leader representative.

The table was decorated in green and yellow the Girl Scout colors, the centerpiece a large Birthday cake with thirty-five lighted candles, was surrounded with handcraft items, made by the scouts.

The mantel was decorated with miniature flags of the thirty-one United Nations.

Troop 17, served refreshments to the Girl Scouts.

Seated at the tea table during the afternoon: Mrs. Scruton, Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, Mrs. W. E. Keyser, Mrs. Jos. Quinn, Mrs. R. L. Anderson, Mrs. H. H. Harnsberger and Mrs. Harold Dean.

The Girl Scouts of Sedalia, in contributing to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund are living the 1947 National Girl Scout slogan, "Better Citizens Build a Better World."

Gay Paree is Also Dear!

20 Million Francs Can't Be Wrong . . .

(And They Can't Go Very Far in Post-War Paris After Dark)

STEEL: What a Paris night-club thinks of New York's Wall Street is represented by the dancer at the famed Bal Tabarin. She's called "Goddess of Steel," but degree of nudity in the lush new show is far less iron-bound than in these photos.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two months ago NEA Staff Correspondent Rosette Hargrove told of the struggles the wage-earning people of France are facing in trying to balance low incomes and a small government price slash against an inflation of 70 per cent or more in the cost of necessities. To show the other side of the story, NEA Service asked its Paris Bureau to do a round-up on French glitter and luxury. Here, in word and picture, is the report on post-war "gay Paree."

By NEA Service PARIS. (NEA)—The average Frenchman in post-war Paris has plenty of headaches, but a cabaret hangover isn't one of them.

He stays home.

The night life is there, just the way everybody expects it to be in Gay Paree. But the customers are the very rich and the tourists.

The Parisian who works for a living isn't interested in paying 1500 francs for a bottle of champagne when 1500 francs is almost a week's salary. The price does not surprise the visitor because it figures to about $12. The same bottle cost about $3 in pre-war days, which may not surprise the average Frenchman, either, but it keeps his hands in his pockets.

Cabarets are seldom crowded these nights. The high prices are an obvious reason. There are other factors. Many Frenchmen make their money in shady ways and, up to now, spent it lavishly in night spots, are staying away because the Economic Police is busy taking down names

LOOKER: A little belatedly, but not ineffectively, Paris gets an in-the-flesh challenge to the invasion of American pin-up girls in the French press. Bespectacled customer at the table at left seems about to answer the challenge with a whistle.

ON THE ROOFS OF PARIS (which is what the name of this cabaret means) there is no ceiling. There's plenty of air; average Frenchman stays away.

and investigating sources of income. And Frenchmen who have come by their money honestly do not like to rub elbows, even in night clubs, with black marketeers and others of doubtful repute. These misgivings do not seem to have affected the Bal Tabarin,

NO CAN-CAN: Youngest of Bal Tabarin girls is Anik Tanguy, 16. Her sister has danced the Can-Can there for 10 years. Anik thinks that's too much work, prefers dancing in costume she's wearing during chat with club manager.

the elaborate night club where thousands of American servicemen monopolized the ringside seats in the months after the liberation of Paris.

Pierre Sandrini, the Billy Rose of Paris, has just spent close to 20 million francs on the new show there. His eye, of course, is on the tourist trade. He has not forgotten that nudity is a virtue that brings in the customers, whether it is used to portray Eve, the pin-up girl, or Wall Street.

Gizy Varga has forsaken the white horse on which she pranced for GI audiences; now she wears a few feathers as a bird of paradise.

The elite of Paris who are also rich still go to "La Tour D'Argent" where the headwaiter has the only menu on which prices are listed. Here the management is content with serving about 100 select customers a night, with questionable persons discreetly turned away.

At this restaurant, oldest and one of the most expensive in Paris, the minimum bill would not be under 2000 francs ($16) per person.

The government legalizes such places merely by establishing a maximum price per meal according to the class of the restaurant. In addition, "supplements" may be served (and are) on which there is no price control.

Anyone ordering the government price-fixed meal would get an icy stare from the waiter and a long, long wait before being served.

The average Frenchman cannot eat the icy stare, nor can he pay for it. So he stays at home.

Piping Hot ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 17.—(AP)—In a traditional rivalry at the University of New Mexico, arts and sciences college students regularly undertake to pull down the engineers' flag just before the annual engineering students' annual St. Patrick's Day dance.

This year the engineers played it safe. They dug an 80-foot trench from the powerhouse, piped live steam at 180 degrees Fahrenheit inside the hollow flagpole and dared all comers to climb it.

The flag still flies.

Red Cross Corner

Mrs. John C. McLaughlin, chairman of knitting, is asking that all FINISHED articles be turned into the office this week. Please note that all garments must be completed. There are twelve more children's sweaters in the office, and these should be taken out and completed as soon as possible. We are sending out an SOS for more volunteer knitters to assist in completing this present quota.

Mrs. George Dryde, chairman of sewed garments, together with her volunteers, inspected and packed 298 sleepers, 298 pairs of mittens, and 215 baby blankets this past week. Even taking into consideration the excellent records of our production department, this is an unusually good consignment, and we wish to emphasize it, particularly to those who wonder (out-loud) just what the Red Cross does when there isn't any war. These sleepers and mittens, and blankets will keep a good many cold little babies warm, and we like to think that such a large number of the national quota issues from our office.

From Mrs. A. A. Studebaker comes the information that another class in Red Cross Home Nursing, is being shaped, and that classes will commence on or about the 15th of April. Any one wishing to register for this class is asked to call Mrs. Studebaker at the Red Cross Office, 618 S. Main. The current class will begin instruction at the Elks Club on Tuesday, with Mrs. A. E. Dorrance instructing.

If only one more ounce of potatoes a day were eaten by everyone in the U. S., the resulting increase in consumption in terms of farm weight would total over 70 million bushels a year.

Plant Potatoes Early as Possible

The Irish potato is a cool season vegetable and will not make a satisfactory growth in warm weather. The cool spring season is short in Missouri and therefore potatoes should be planted as early as possible in order to take full advantage of what cool growing weather the season provides.

One of the first rules for growing good Irish potatoes is to use northern grown seed, certified if possible. Certified seed is the best, and if it is obtainable be sure to use it. However, northern grown seed is not certified is likely to be much better than most home grown seed. Certification means that the potatoes have been grown in fields where special precautions have been taken to keep out all diseases. These potatoes are as disease free as can be obtained. Each bag is tagged with a blue inspection tag showing that the potato field where that seed was grown was passed by a state inspector.

Home grown seed is likely to carry over potato diseases from the previous year since diseases are quite prevalent due to our warm growing seasons. Early planting of northern grown certified seed is one of the best measures we have to control the many destructive potato diseases which cut down the yields in Missouri farm gardens every year.

Save celery tops, chop them fine or dry them. Use them in soups, stews, creamed vegetables, dressing, meat, or vegetable loaf.

If a turkey weighs 14 to 17 pounds dressed, cook it at a temperature of 275 degrees Fahrenheit. Allow 5 to 6 hours.

Demonstration Be March 25 On Windbreak

Place Be W. S. Stark Farm On 16th Street Road

A tree windbreak planting demonstration will be held on the W. S. Stark farm on the Sixteenth street road, Seven miles west of the fair grounds, Tuesday afternoon, March 25th. This date is a change from the original one which was several days later. The meeting will start at 1:30 p. m. Mr. L. E. McCormick, Extension Forester, will assist with the demonstration.

Though there are very few good windbreaks in Pettis County most farms have a place for them. In general, a windbreak is effective in reducing the wind velocity on the leeward side over a distance of from 8 to 15 times the height of the trees, depending on the species and density.

According to studies made on a three-row evergreen windbreak, such as the one to be set out at Stark's wind velocity was reduced as follows (trees 25' tall):

Measured wind velocity in miles per hour:

5 10 15 20 25 30

Velocity M. P. H. 75 feet back of windbreak:

0.5 2 3 5 8 15

Percent decrease:

90 80 80 75 68 50

The most effective zone of windbreak influence is over the distance from the windbreak out to six times the height of the trees, with the trees averaging 25 or more feet in height. Drifting snow most frequently occurs out to a distance of 2 or 3 times the height of the trees. Therefore, windbreaks for winter protection should be planted from 100 to 300 feet from the farm buildings.

On North or West

Of course the windbreak should be on the north and west sides. It may be difficult to find a good location when the buildings are too near the south or east side of the road. The ideal winter windbreak should be L shaped with the legs of the L extended somewhat beyond the area to be protected. The location will be more or less controlled by fence lines.

For winter protection the windbreak should consist of 3 rows of evergreens, but more rows will be required if other trees are added. Spacing between rows can be varied to allow for cultivation and mowing. It is often 10 to 12 feet. Always leave that much space between the outside row and the fence to prevent livestock reaching over the fences and browsing in the trees, and to provide a lane for passage.

The trees should be spaced alternately in the rows (staggered) to increase the effectiveness of the planting, and to allow more space for development of the individual trees. The most desirable site preparation is plowing, discing and harrowing the previous fall if the site is not susceptible to erosion. Recommended species are scotch pine, jack pine, Virginia pine, shortleaf pine, and red cedar.

Windbreak plantations must be protected from livestock of all kinds and unless such protection is provided by fencing or otherwise, the survival and effectiveness of the trees will never be satisfactory. Even poultry will sometimes severely damage small trees.

Cultivation is very important for the first 2 or 3 years in the establishment of a good windbreak, particularly if the trees are planted in ground capable of supporting a heavy growth of grass and weeds. It may be possible to intertilt with some garden crop if the crop is kept clean and not planted too close to the trees. All windbreak planting should be done in the spring in Missouri.

Bulls Average $275 In Clinton Sale

Thirty-four registered Hereford, Shorthorn, and Angus bulls were sold recently by the Western Cattle Breeders' Association, at the Community Sale Barn at Clinton. The bulls sold for an average of $275 with the top priced bull selling for $530.

Three Pettis county breeders consigned bulls to the Association sale. The Hereford bull consigned by Dick Monsees of Sedalia was sold to Claude Winkler of Clinton Ray Gastineau of Redford, Mo. purchased the Angus bull consigned by Clarence and Edward Carroll of La Monte. E. J. Sims of Green Ridge consigned two Hereford bulls which were purchased by C. W. Ellis of Appleton City and Robert Wittig of Deepwater, Mo.

The group of outstanding beef bulls ranged in age from 10 to 24 months. Of the bulls consigned, 12 were Angus, 20 Hereford, and two were Shorthorn. The cattle were consigned by breeders from nine west central Missouri counties and sold to breeders from various parts of the state.

The committee to select the bulls to be sold was composed of Prof. L. A. Weaver, chairman of the Animal Husbandry department of the University of Missouri and Rolla Singleton of the State Department of Agriculture. The bulls were selected in early January. Prof. L. A. Weaver, also judged the animals before they were sold. In commenting on the cattle offered for sale Prof. Weaver paid tribute to this section of the state for having very good beef cattle and for putting forth great effort to further improve their cattle. This section of the country, he stated, was ideally adapted to the production of well bred beef cattle.

Extension agents from Southwest Missouri arranged for the cattle sale and show at Clinton. This was the third sale of this kind held by the Western Missouri Association. The sale provides both commercial and purebred breeders of beef cattle with an opportunity to buy good useful bulls which will improve the quality of cattle which they produce.

Health Lessons For 4-H Clubs

Pettis County 4-H clubs are including health, the fourth H, in their programs this year. Clubs are participating in a number of ways.

The Bethel 4-H club is fortunate in having Mrs. A. E. Dorrance, a registered nurse, assist them with their health program. A series of lessons on health will be a part of several of the community 4-H club meetings throughout the year. At the first meetings all club members were weighed and measured. Also Mrs. Dorrance familiarized the group with health charts and with good health habits.

Events planned for future meetings are "Bandages and First Aid", Hemorrhages, and Artificial Respiration. In addition to these topics all 4-H members are working to eliminate safety hazards in their home and at school.

Mrs. Dorrance has taught a course in home nursing to the families in the community and parents and club members welcome the opportunity of working with her again. The object of the health activity in the club meetings is to develop "good health habits" among the 4-H'ers.

Plan To Grow Own Vegetables

Look forward to the good health of your family by planning now to grow plenty of nutritious, fresh vegetables in your own garden this year. Vegetables of highest quality grow on highly fertile soil. The fertility of your garden soil can be improved by applying a complete fertilizer this spring. Broadcast 4-12-4, or some similar complete fertilizer, at the rate of 1 lb. per 50 sq. ft. of garden space, or 200 lbs. to a quart acre.

If the garden was fall plowed this fertilizer can be applied now and worked in as the ground is disked and harrowed. If the garden was not fall plowed the fertilizer can be broadcast now and plowed under. Either method helps the fertilizer to get well mixed into the top soil.

Vegetables from a well fertilized garden will grow fast and will be tender and crisp at harvest time.

Mary Ruth Booth As A Home Beautifier

Mary Ruth Booth has been a member of the Quisenberry 4-H club for 6 years. Mrs. Eugene Helman was community leader in 1946. In 1946 Home Grounds was just one of Mary Ruth's projects. She made 28 garments in her clothing project, 5 articles in Home Furnishings, canned 95 quarts of food, froze 33 quarts of food and 20 pounds of chicken and grew 6 peonies, 4 annuals and set out 55 bulbs in Home Grounds. She has been on Home and social committees of her club and has been song leader and pianist.

Mary Ruth has won many blue and red ribbons in her exhibits and was on the Home Furnishings judging team that won first in the state in 1946, winning a blue ribbon in this state contest. In 1946 she won a blue ribbon in the state frozen food contest.

The value of the products made by Mary Ruth during her club years is $679.49.

Story of Success

This is her story in the Home Beautification Contest. For my home grounds project I chose to plant tulips, daffodils, delphinium, gladioli, zinnias, geraniums, and chrysanthemums—with tulips, hyacinths and daffodils for winter facing. These flowers bloom in the order named and produce flowers from early spring until hard freezing weather. I also helped care for bleeding hearts, peonies, shasta daisies, hardy carnations, columbine, a l carn lilies, and feel that I have learned something about their habits.

Since we needed more fall blooms I specialized in chrysanthemums. So far I have over 15 new early blooming varieties. They are also frost resistant and represent many shades of beautiful color, ranging from different shades of whites, yellow, golds, bronzes, apricots, rose, reds and purple. I am raising three different types, the pom-pom, the large shaggy and the single bloom chrysanthemums.

My first step in planting chrysanthemums was to find a place where they would receive a lot of sun. I dug the soil very deeply and mixed in bone meal and vigo, plant food, also well rotted manure. I set the separate plants about two feet apart, staggering them for a better effect. When they became about 6 inches tall, I began pinching out the tops to make plants branch, and I pinched them again when they were about one foot high. After that I allowed the buds to form.

I watered the plants deeply as often as necessary to keep the

Time Near To Plant Tomato Seed

Tomato seed planting time will soon be here and every seed planted should be treated. A lot of commercial seed houses are now treating tomato seed before selling it to the grower. Therefore, if the seed you buy has not already been treated it will be good insurance to treat it before planting. This is especially important for those of you who are growing large quantities of tomatoes for fresh market or the cannery trade. Treating the seed will help reduce damping off. This disease kills many tomato plants in the plant bed every year. The stem of the young tomato plant blackens and rots off just at the ground level.

Use Arasan, one level teaspoonful of the dust to each pound of seed. If a liquid treatment is preferred, dip the seed in New Improved Corasan for 5 minutes using either 1 ounce in 9 gallons of water or 1 level teaspoonful in 10 pints of water. The solution should be used only once and the seed dried after washing. Cuprocid is another material that may be used. To get satisfactory results follow directions on the package.

Clothing Leaders Training Meet

Nine 4-H Clothing leaders who have Clothing IV and V members in their clubs attended a leader training meeting at the extension office Sedalia on Monday March 10.

Requirements and Standards for 1947 were discussed. Clothing IV and V 4-H girls will be working with woolen materials and demonstrations were given on how to press wool material, how to shrink out fulness, how to tailor a suit and how to stretch tape for reinforcing neck and arm holes. Discussions and illustrative material on how to finish seams on wool garments and how to make a bound button hole were presented.

Leaders attending and their 4-H clubs were: Mrs. Roderic Damand, Ringen Brushy; Mrs. Harold Eichholz, Ringen Brushy; Miss Marguerite Welliver, Flat Creek; Mrs. Chester Wiseman, Flat Creek; Mrs. Ralph Thomas, Striped College; Mrs. Earnest Biggs, Striped College; Mrs. Paul Harvey, Walnut Grove; Mrs. Fred Weikal, Allan and Mrs. Raymond Kahrs, Smithton.

Proud of Her Plants

As an experiment I placed the pieces which I pinched off in water and then set them out in the ground—and kept them well watered. About 40 young plants were produced in this way and I was very proud of them until my baby brother "weeded" the flower bed for me one day and pulled up most of them and the chickens destroyed some more of them when the yard gate was left open.

Next spring we expect to start new plants and sell them. As the plants I started myself were as nice as any I bought and BETTER than some. In this way I expect to make a profit and enlarge my project.

Not having grown the newer varieties before it amazed me when the plants tried to bloom in early July. And of course the flowers were poorly formed because of the hot weather and I was afraid they wouldn't bloom in the fall. However the first buds dried up and disappeared and I have two varieties which started blooming about September 1st and two more coming into bloom about September 29th. The rest were well budded and were soon a mass of color.

Cuts Out Dead Stalks

When a hard freeze blackens the bloom I will cut out the dead stalks down to a few inches from the ground and leave them over the plant all winter where they will act as a good mulch.

Next spring when the growth is well started, I will divide the plants and move them to a new location as chrysanthemums are heavy feeders and tend to deplete the soil where they grow. I will probably use vine (wincles) and salmon petunia (cheerful) and take their place as neither plant requires a rich soil and I saw a very attractive planting of them at the Missouri State Fair.

Beautiful flowers alone do not create beautiful home grounds, and our lawn was rapidly growing up in buck horn. So with the help of my parents we dug out all the plants which were large enough to seed and then we sprayed the lawn with a commercial weed killer. It has really improved the looks of the yard. And I'm hoping it will be permanent.

Peas May Be Planted Early

Garden peas are a cool season crop and should be among the first vegetables planted in Missouri gardens. Late planting is probably the chief cause of unsatisfactory yields of this crop. If you plan to have peas for canning or quick freezing plant them just as soon as conditions in your part of the state will permit.

Peas usually can be planted in central Missouri gardens by March 15th, and not later than the first part of April in northern Missouri. If peas have not already been planted in the southern portion of the state they should go in as soon as possible.

Cold wet soil and unfavorable weather conditions may cause pea seed to rot after it is planted. To help prevent this rotting the seed can be treated with a dust of either Spergon or Arasan at the rate of one-half teaspoonful per pound of seed. This is the same rate as 2 ounces per bushel. Just put the proper amount of the seed and the dust in a tight can or paper bag and rotate until every seed is coated with the dust. The seed is then ready to plant.

The Sweet Spanish type of onion was first introduced into this country from Spain about 25 years ago. This large, mild flavored onion composes most of the late crop of onions grown in the West.

The highest federal grade of turkey found in commercial quantities is U. S. grade A. This grade of turkey is well fleshed, soft-meated, and tender, with a breast almost free of pin feathers.

Graduate From Petty Thieves

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(P)—J. Edgar Hoover, reporting a new 10-year crime record for 1946, said today that wartime juvenile delinquents are "graduating from petty thieves to armed robbers and into the field of more serious crimes."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation director said the 645,431 arrests records received last year represent a 7.6 percent increase in crime throughout the nation over 1945.

Of the more serious crimes, only auto thefts declined—4.8 percent in 1946. Murders increased 23.3 percent; manslaughter by negligence 7.2; rape 5; robbery 15.7; aggravated assault 12.9; burglary 11.5 and larceny 8.3. "The gradual breakdown of the American home is beginning to be reflected in the national behavior pattern and is a real cause for alarm," Hoover declared in an analysis of the reasons for the crime increase.

The FBI's study of 1946 crime showed that for the first time since 1938 more persons in the 21-year age group were arrested than in any other age level. Next, in order, were 22, 23, 24 and 20-year-olds.

The report also noted an increase of 25.4 percent in arrests of males and an 18.3 percent decrease in arrests of women, compared with 1945. Arrests of girls under 21 exceeded prewar figures by 40 percent, even though 33.1 percent below 1945.

Turkey first was used at a festive dinner, according to one story, at the wedding of Charles IX in 1570.

Dairymen To Meet March 21

Session to be on Artificial Breeding Of Dairy Cattle

All Pettis county dairymen are invited to attend the dairy meeting on artificial breeding which will be held in the Assembly room of the Court House in Sedalia on Friday, March 21st, beginning at 1:15 p. m.

M. J. Reagan, Extension Dairyman of the University of Missouri, will attend the meeting and discuss problems connected with Artificial Breeding of dairy cattle. Mr. Reagan has spent considerable time with dairymen of the state and is familiar with the problems connected with the artificial breeding work. John Faucett, manager of the NFA Artificial Breeding Association at Springfield will also be present and appear on the program. It was through the Association at Springfield that the Pettis county group made their start in April, 1946.

Victor Miller of Smithton is the inseminator for the local group of dairymen. Mr. Miller reports that approximately 716 cows have been artificially bred since the association began operation almost a year ago. Of this number 41% were settled with the first service and 27% with the second service. Around 60, artificially bred, Holstein, Guernsey, and Jersey calves have been dropped from this group of cows with quite a number of cows due to calve in the near future.

Over 185 dairymen and dairy cow owners are participating in the artificial breeding program. The association can satisfactorily handle a larger number of cows than are signed up at present. Anyone wishing to avail themselves of the service is urged to attend the meeting on March 21st, along with those now using artificial breeding services.

Winning Movie Coming to City

"The Best Years of Our Lives," which has just been accorded the Best Picture of the Year award by the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences, is booked to be shown in Sedalia soon, it was announced today by LeRoy Nichols Liberty Theater manager.

The picture, which received just about all the awards it is possible to give one production, has been shown up to this time in only half-dozen large cities. Mr. Nichols said, and no run of the picture has yet been terminated. It is now in its ninth week in Los Angeles, where it is playing day-and-date in two theatres.

It is the policy of Samuel Goldwyn, the producer of the picture, to play it in smaller theaters at advanced admission prices for extended engagements, and to let the picture stay so long as there is anyone left to see it. "Up to this time," said Nichols, "it hasn't run out of customers in any city."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ricks, of Hutchinson, Kas., formerly residents of this vicinity, have moved in with their daughter, Mrs. J. M. Lehr, and Mr. Lehr, as their home was sold and they could not find a house. Their new address is 608 West 14th street, Sedalia. The Ricks' youngest daughter, Nell, is married and lives in Salina, Kas.

Miss Betty Ream, a graduate of the Hughesville High School in the Class of '44, and now a junior at Central College, in Fayette was on the honor roll at that school the past semester. Miss Ream is secretary of the junior class, and is quite prominent in the college campus activities. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ream.

Seaman Doyle Meyers, who spent the past week on leave at his home here, has returned to the Pacific area, where he is on duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCarty had as dinner guests last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith, of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tuck, and children, Frankie and Jean, of Houstonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knight, and children Eugene and Christine, of La Monte.

Mrs. Alonzo Moon is a patient at the hospital where she underwent an operation. She is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Dee Powell, who is staying with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Claib Harlan, and Mr. Harlan, of 1020 South Moniteau avenue, in Sedalia, has been quite ill. She has been confined to her room for the past several weeks.

Mrs. Charles Howe, for many years a resident of Hughesville, is now at the Bothwell hospital.

Mrs. George Bassett, of Craig, Colo., is now with her sister, Mrs. S. F. Eckles, and Mr. Eckles, at San Diego, Cal. The sisters are former Misses Alma and Wilma McClure, of this vicinity.

Miss Wilma Wheeler, of Kansas City, spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wheeler.

Mrs. Art Martin, and infant daughter, Carolyn, have returned to their home here, from the Bothwell hospital in Sedalia.

Staff Sgt. Charles Rages, stationed in Illinois, was home over the week-end.

Mrs. Charles Rages was hostess to the Christian Church Council and Women's Society of Christian Service, at a covered dish luncheon on Wednesday. The president, Mrs. A. B. Grimes, presided over the following program:

Leader, Mrs. C. N. Richardson
Devotional, Mrs. Edmond Martin.

Articles, Mrs. Homer Cunningham, Mrs. Tom McCarty, Mrs. Dwight Lowrey.

The table was centered with a huge cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. The guest of honor was Miss Jean Landers, who will become the bride of Mr. Dean Grishy, of Warrensburg, on Friday. She is the daughter of Mrs. Wes Grimes, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Henry Martin, who were present at the meeting and shower. She received many lovely gifts.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

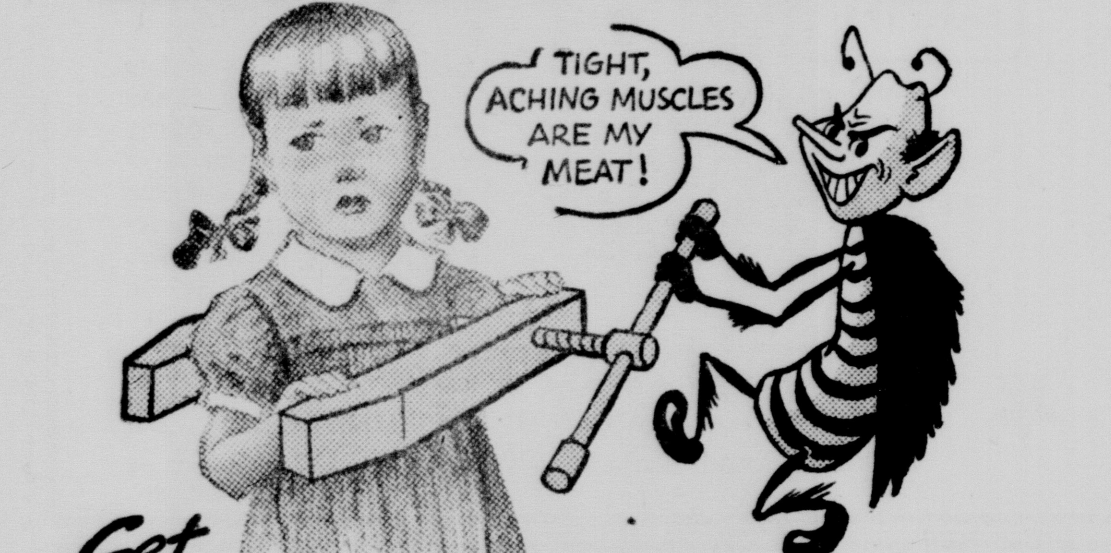

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and eat well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a nervous, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your favorite store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-'Round

WASHINGTON, March 17 — Opinion is unanimous on Capitol Hill that President Truman's message on Greece and Turkey represents the most momentous foreign policy step taken by the United States since President Roosevelt decided to convoy supplies across the Atlantic in 1940 to aid beleaguered Britain.

The two moves are regarded as analogous. One cast the die in regard to Germany. The other may cast the die in regard to Russia.

In fact, the message is so vital that some of the president's best friends on Capitol Hill wish he would not decloud the issue by the friendships he keeps.

Specifically they are worried over the fact that spokesmen for the extreme Greek royalists, against whom a large part of the Greek population is so bitter, appear to have ready access to the White House.

Shortly before President Truman delivered his historic message for instance he conferred with Archbishop Athenagoras of the Greek orthodox church and Reverend Thomas Daniels, sometimes known as Papathomas Daniels, or Daniel Papathomas, Greek Americans who know this pair are amazed that they could even get inside the White House, let alone hold a long conference with the president and later he dined and dined with Truman's military aide, General Harry Vaughan.

Not only does the archbishop represent the extreme royalist faction in Greece, but the Reverend Daniels is one of the most controversial figures in the Greek church.

The St. Sophia church of Washington has adopted a standing bylaw that he may not enter the church, even as a worshiper.

Justice Frankfurter Heckled
Lawyers practicing before the supreme court long have wished they could turn the tables on talkative, inquisitive Justice Felix Frankfurter.

During almost every case argued before the court, Justice Frankfurter subjects the attorneys to a barrage of questions. Sometimes the grilling is so continuous that a lawyer finds all his time taken up with the Frankfurter repartee, has little time left to present his main argument. Privately they wish they could ask the justice a few questions themselves.

It remained for a young Harvard law professor to turn the tables and heckle Justice Frankfurter while he was making a speech.

The occasion was the annual law review dinner of the Harvard law school. Frankfurter, former Harvard professor, was the guest of honor. Called upon to speak, the learned supreme court justice pontificated in his usual manner. He talked the way he writes replete with Victorian phrases.

In the audience was Felix's old colleague, Professor Thomas Reed Powell, himself an authority on the supreme court and the author of a book on the court's encroachment on state police power. In no awe of the justice, Powell whispered audibly, sometimes derisively, commenting on his friend's mannerisms.

However, it was not Powell but Robert Braucher, a young assistant professor and former student of Justice Frankfurter's, who dared heckle openly. The justice was talking about the racial and religious freedom of the Harvard law school.

"We can be very proud," he said, "that everyone is admitted no matter what his color or creed."

At this young Braucher rose, started to challenge Frankfurter regarding the color line.

"Sit down, you," roared the justice.

Braucher did. Later he wrote Frankfurter a note of apology. Frankfurter, however, has a long memory. Backstage betting is that at the end of the school term, Braucher will be dropped.

Soviet Enemies Buy

A lot of people in the publishing business, now starving for paper, were hoping that Russia would begin exporting newsprint after the war. Indirectly, she has, but under unique circumstances.

Finland owes Russia $300,000,000 in reparations and as one installment toward paying it off, the Finns recently delivered to the Russians 25,000 tons of newsprint. The Russians in turn are selling it in New York.

Interesting facts, however, are the price and the buyers. The price is $183 a ton for New York! This contrasts with the average price in New York today of around $84 a ton. During the war, OPA held prices down to $55.

Even more interesting, however are some of those purchasing this high-priced Russian newsprint.

Among the Soviet's bitterest critics in the USA is Norman Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times. His paper has poured out a steady stream of vitriol about things Russian. When it came to Russian newsprint, however, Chandler swallowed his pride and bought a good slice of the Soviet cargo at the exorbitant price of $183 a ton.

New Pan American Problems

Dynamic, young Alberto Lleras Camargo, ex-president of Colombia, faces a tough assignment when he takes over as director general of the Pan American Union. But if anyone can inject new life into that moss-grown institution, Lleras is the man.

The governing board of the union elected the Colombian ex-president on March 12 to succeed the late Dr. Leo S. Rowe who was killed by an army car some weeks ago. His election is a most notable event, because never before has a Latin American served as director of the Pan American Union. It is also significant because Lleras is a Colombian and it was only a few short years ago that Colombians were so enraged over the U. S. taking of the Panama canal zone that it was unsafe for the American minister to walk in the streets of Bogota.

At 40, this self-educated journalist-diplomat has already had a notable career. After holding several other cabinet posts, he was named foreign minister in 1945 and headed Colombia's delegation to the UN conference at San Francisco, where he soon became the key man of the Latin American bloc. Three months later, President Alfonso Lopez of Colombia resigned and Lleras was elected by the senate to serve the remaining year of the term.

He left the presidency in August, 1946, and went back to his desk at "El Liberal," the newspaper which he founded on a shoestring in 1938. It is now Bogota's second largest. Lleras built it up by dint of prodigious, 16-hour-a-day labors and some of the most brilliant editorial writing ever done in Spanish.

He will need the same kind of tireless devotion in the post he now assumes. Not only is the Pan American Union in a sorry state, but Lleras finds himself doubly on the spot as the first Latin American director in that organization's 57-year history.

Pan American Union does a good job at giving musical concerts and issuing stereopticon slides to women's clubs. But as an institution to iron out Pan American problems, it has been as hollow as its own beautiful building.

Empty Shell

Inside, with parrots twittering in tropical trees, 167 people work in fifteen separate departments, which bear such imposing titles as division of economic information, division of cultural cooperation, division of labor and social information, etc. Actually, exchange of data on these subjects would be of tremendous value to western hemisphere solidarity. But there has been nothing active about the PAU, with the single exception of its economic division revitalized during the past year.

Lleras' prime task will be that of creating a brand new atmosphere. Despite the numerous nationalities represented on the staff, the Pan American Union has always been dominated by the U. S. state department and has faithfully reflected that agency's musty, ineffectual confusion. In almost every department, four underpaid, ill trained clerks putter at the work which could be turned out promptly by one competent specialist. As a result, most of the PAU's reports and surveys are hopelessly out of date even before being completed.

Lack of field personnel and adequate, responsible representatives in the Latin American countries is another serious shortcoming. Aside from the governing board itself—a panel of special ambassadors from each member nation—the Pan American Union has no more direct contact with Latin America than any U. S. government agency, and considerably less than some.

Up to now, the union has managed to survive and struggle along despite these severe handicaps. But today it faces a critical situation. The United Nations is growing stronger daily—administratively, at least. And those who are responsible for the UN's continued existence look with disfavor on regional organizations such as the Pan American Union.

Yet it is vital to the entire western hemisphere right now that the Pan American Union go on functioning effectively, although always in close cooperation with the world body. On that basis, and with all its branches really doing the job for which they were created, it can be a big help in stimulating the spirit of true internationalism, of appreciation by all peoples of

EPIDEMIC COLDS! Here's help to AVOID and RELIEVE miseries

With epidemic colds still spreading, health authorities suggest these simple health rules: Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Get plenty of rest. Avoid crowds and people who have colds.

If You Do Catch Cold
Relieve distress with the best-known home remedy you can use—rub on warming, comforting Vicks VapoRub at bedtime.

Why Results Are So Good
VapoRub's relief-bringing action starts to work instantly... and keeps working for hours in the night to soothe distress, relieve discomfort, and invite restful sleep. Often by morning the worst miseries of the cold are gone! Try VapoRub tonight. Get the one and only Vicks VapoRub.

IMPORTANT! To help prevent many colds from developing, do this: At the first warning sneeze or sniffle, put a few drops of Vicks VapoRub in each nostril. Follow directions in package. VapoRub works right where 3 out of 4 colds start... relieves sniffles, sneezes and stuffiness... and actually helps prevent many colds from developing if used in time! So with colds spreading, keep VapoRub handy and use it early.

If the miserable symptoms of your cold are not relieved promptly—or if more serious trouble seems to threaten—call in your family doctor.

their neighbors' aims and problems.

New Broom Lleras
Alberto Lleras Camargo knows all this, perhaps better than any other living American. His encyclopedic knowledge of Pan American affairs was amply demonstrated at the Mexican City conference two years ago, where he successfully led the fight for adoption of several far reaching resolutions on reorganization of the PAU, most of which he himself authored. Few of these plans have been put into practice so far. The Pan American Union just hasn't been in the habit of getting around to doing things that quickly.

If Lleras is allowed a free hand in running the place—and he wouldn't have accepted the post without a clear understanding on that score—there will be some important changes. He isn't a man to waste time, and he emphatically does not subscribe to the theory that the PAU should be run as an adjunct of the state department.

Spot removal can be done safely at home with a nonflammable solvent; send big jobs to commercial cleaners to avoid risk of solvent illness and fire hazard.

Club Meets At Leftwich Home

The Longwood Extension club met March 11th, at the home of Mrs. Clay Leftwich, with eleven members and one visitor answering roll call. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Clay Leftwich, secretary, in the absence of both president and vice-president. Mrs. Joseph Jenkins, vice-president, has moved away, and Mrs. Thomas Raines was elected to fill her office.

Roll call was answered by modeling your favorite apron. The club collect was read. The news letter was read by Mrs. Raymond Hurt, and the health letter, on whooping cough, was read by Mrs. Junior Hammond. A talk on home beautification was made by Mrs. Cloyd Leftwich.

A donation was made by the club to the Red Cross.

The April meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Spencer Jenkins, on April 2. It will be a 12:30 luncheon. All those who cannot attend, please notify Mrs. Jenkins.

The meeting was closed by all singing, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

"ANY BUDWEISER ON THIS TRAIN?"
"Yes, Sir. JUST ASK FOR IT."

Because of the unprecedented demand for Budweiser, it's true that you can't count on getting it every time you ask for it. But, ask for it always to enjoy it often. We are planning another expansion of the often-expanded facilities of the world's largest brewery. Meanwhile, we are making Budweiser available equitably if not abundantly.

So, to get your share, don't say 'beer,' say Budweiser

ANHEUSER-BUSCH SAINT LOUIS

no Tall stories here... Old Golds are long on Pleasure!

Made by Lovillard, a famous name in tobacco for nearly 200 years Old Golds are not sprayed with water from the Fountain of Youth. And smoking Old Golds won't give you an iron constitution. Nor fulfill any of those fancy cigarette claims you read.

But if it's real deep-down smoking enjoyment you're after—Old Golds will give you that with flavor to spare!

Old Golds offer just one thing: the ultimate in rich, mellow smoking satisfaction. With the world's most luxurious tobaccos. With nearly two hundred years of fine tobacco experience. With scrupulous care, and with quality guarded by every known scientific device.

Interested in that kind of smoke? Looking for top-quality tobaccos at their positive peak? Then light up an Old Gold, man—and enjoy the happiest fact in cigarette history!
